ILLINOIS RELEASES DRAFT 1115 WAIVER FOR BEHAVIORAL HEALTH REDESIGN

This week, our In Focus section reviews the draft Section 1115 Research and Demonstration waiver, released on August 26, 2016, by the Illinois Department of Healthcare and Family Services (DHFS). The 1115 waiver is proposed as part of the state's broader initiatives around the State Innovation Model (SIM) design grant awards, the State Health Assessment (SHA), and the State Health Improvement Plan (SHIP), with goals of strengthening the state's behavioral health care system, reducing silos in behavioral health care, and promoting greater integration of physical and behavioral health. The waiver specifically proposes the inclusion of a package of new benefits for individuals with severe mental illness (SMI) and substance use disorders (SUD), as well individuals nearing release from the Illinois Department of Corrections (IDOC) and Cook County Jail systems. DHFS estimates $1.2 billion in federal savings over the five-year waiver term, equaling a 2 percent spending reduction across all Medicaid spending compared to without-waiver spending estimates. DHFS is accepting comments on the draft 1115 waiver through September 26, 2016.

Proposed Benefits, Target Populations

The 1115 waiver requests Medicaid funding for six categories of new benefits, and proposes making these benefits available only for select target populations. The pilot target populations were selected based on stakeholder comments and other information, with the intention to match benefits with those most in need, and where they would be most likely to decrease total cost of care.

Benefit	Target Population(s)
Supportive Housing	Individuals with SMI, at risk of institutionalization or homelessness, or currently in permanent supportive housing
Supported Employment Services	Individuals 14 or older with SUD, serious and persistent mental illness (SPMI), or serious emotional disturbance (SED) needing ongoing support to obtain and maintain a job
Services to ensure successful transitions from IDOC and Cook County Jail	Medicaid-eligible IDOC-justice involved individuals within 30 days of release; Cook County detainees eligible for Medicaid managed care (and not previously enrolled in CountyCare, the Cook County Health and Hospital System's managed care plan)
Extended-release injectable naltrexone; medication assisted treatment (MAT) services	Medicaid-eligible individuals incarcerated at IDOC facility within 30 days of release
Lifting IMD exclusion for short-term residential SUD treatment	Individuals with SUD needing short-term residential treatment
SUD case management	Individuals with SUD receiving any ASAM (American Society of Addiction Medicine) treatment level of care but not receiving case management from other sources
Withdrawal management	Individuals with SUD meeting ASAM criteria for withdrawal management
Recovery coaching for SUD	Individuals with SUD seeking support for long-term recovery
Lifting IMD exclusion for short-term mental health treatment	Individuals with mental health disorders needing short-term residential treatment
Crisis beds	Individuals requiring psychiatric treatment but do not require inpatient stay
Intensive in-home services; Respite care	Families and children (ages 5-21) with high behavioral health needs and/or SED at risk of transition to higher level of care

Additional Waiver Initiatives

In addition to the targeted benefit expansion, DHFS is proposing four initiatives aimed at increasing physical and behavioral health integration and expanding value-based payments in Medicaid.

1. Behavioral and physical health integration activities: providing managed care organizations and providers with resources to pursue development of integrated health homes (IHHs). Illinois intends to design and implement IHHs, authorized through a Medicaid state plan amendment, and is requesting support around workforce integration, provider readiness assessment, encouraging partnerships and integration between physical and behavioral providers, the launching of disease-specific pilot projects, and data collection and reporting.
2. Prevention services to address infant and early childhood mental health interventions: The waiver seeks to expand the Infant/Early Childhood Mental Health Consultation (I/ECMHC) program, targeting high-need areas initially, as well as rural Illinois.
3. Behavioral health workforce-strengthening initiatives: developing and retaining a larger behavioral health care workforce and training providers around cultural and linguistic competency, promoting whole-person care.
4. Medicaid funding to implement first episode psychosis (FEP) programs: creation of teams to respond to individuals experiencing initial onset of a Schizophrenias Spectrum Disorder. Illinois is currently developing a FEP program, and is requesting Medicaid funding to expand.

Public Comment, Public Hearings

As mentioned above, DHFS will be accepting public comment on the draft 1115 waiver through September 26, 2016. Additionally, the state will hold two public hearings - on September 8, 2016, in Springfield, Illinois; and on September 9, 2016, in Chicago, Illinois - to present the waiver proposal to and take comments and questions from interested stakeholders.

Alabama

Lottery Bill Fails, Renewing Concerns About Medicaid Funding. The Montgomery Advertiser reported on August 26, 2016, that a bill to establish a state lottery to help fund an $85 million Medicaid budget shortfall failed in the Alabama Senate during a special legislative session. Alabama Governor Robert Bentley said the vote also imperils the state's proposal to move Medicaid beneficiaries into regional care organizations. Two key Democrats withdrew their support over concerns that the legislation could negatively impact other parts of the state's gaming industry. Read More

Chamber of Commerce Proposes Options for Medicaid Expansion. AJC.com reported on August 31, 2016, the Georgia Chamber of Commerce has put forward three options for Medicaid expansion in the state. Although Georgia Governor Nathan Deal has opposed expansion, an increasing number of state lawmakers have indicated potential support. The first option would extend Medicaid coverage to childless adults up to 100 percent of the federal poverty level. The second option would extend coverage up to 138 percent of poverty. The third option would extend coverage up to 100 percent of poverty and enroll those between 100 percent and 138 percent in a Qualified Health Plan. All three options also include work requirements and cost-sharing and would require federal waivers to be implemented. The Chamber of Commerce plans to release cost projections for the plan before the January 2017 legislative session. Read More

Medicaid Enrollment Growth Prompts Request for More Funding. Georgia Health News reported on August 25, 2016, that the Georgia Department of Community Health is requesting $82.8 million in additional funding in 2017 and $121.4 million in 2018, due to a projected 2 percent increase in Medicaid enrollment during that time period. Department chief financial officer Elizabeth Brady says the increase is mostly due to the “woodwork effect,” meaning that more people realize that they are eligible for Medicaid due to the publicity around enrollment through the Exchanges. Additionally, the agency is implementing a payment system that would potentially recapture funds from health plans that do not meet quality metrics. Read More

Illinois

Proposed Exchange Rate Increases Averaging 44 to 55 Percent. Chicago Tribune reported on August 25, 2016, that the Illinois Department of Insurance submitted Exchange rate increases averaging 44 to 55 percent for 2017 plans. Consumers are reporting concerns around affordability and options, especially after a number of insurers pulled out of the Exchange due to financial losses. Illinois claims the increases are partly due to the federal government not providing payments it promised, as well as rising medical and pharmaceutical costs. However, according to a report by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, even if insurance premiums double next year, two-thirds of Illinois residents will pay $100 or less per month after subsidies. Medicaid Managed Care Saves State $22 Million, Report Says. The Des Moines Register reported on August 26, 2016, that a report released by the Iowa Department of Human Resources shows that the state has saved $22 million since April 1, 2016, when it implemented a Medicaid managed care program. According to the report, Iowa spent about $332 million on Medicaid in the first three months of the managed care program, compared to the $354 million it would have spent under traditional Medicaid. The report also suggests wide variety in spending among Medicaid managed care plans in the state. Lawmakers and skeptics of Medicaid managed care say the report does not ease their concerns. Kentucky

State Releases Revised 1115 Waiver Application. The Courier-Journal reported on August 24, 2016, that Governor Matt Bevin's administration released its final revised Medicaid 1115 waiver plan, known as Kentucky HEALTH, which takes into account public comments collected since June. The revised plan maintains work requirements, monthly premiums, and optional dental and vision benefits, disappointing some advocates. The Governor's administration argues that the new plan is more financially sustainable, and state Medicaid Commissioner Steve Miller has said that the changes would create savings of $2.2 billion over the next five years. However, federal officials have expressed doubts about the changes, which would impact the 440,000 individuals that gained Medicaid coverage through Kentucky's expansion of the program if approved. Public Comment on New York's Medicaid Program. As part of its annual review of the Section 1115 Medicaid waiver that governs NY's Medicaid program, the Department of Health hosted two 1115 Waiver Public Comment Day forums on May 4, 2016 and July 12, 2016. More than half the speakers represented community based organizations, including organized labor, who raised concerns about delays in funds flow from Performing Provider Systems in the DSRIP program. Primary care providers expressed concern about the need for capital to foster Primary Care which is fundamental to the delivery of healthcare, as well as the need for more consistent definitions for Health Equity, Cultural Competency and CBO diversity. In addition to live testimony, the Department received written comments from several dozen organizations. Summaries of live testimony during both meetings as well as written comments received have been posted. Read More

Delivery System Reform Incentive Payment Program Update. The Department of Health provided an update on the status of the Delivery System Reform Incentive Payment (DSRIP) program at its monthly managed care policy and planning meeting with health plans that participate in the state's Medicaid managed care program. Among the program highlights it was noted that PPS networks have an open enrollment period, ending September 8, in which they can add providers to their network. The update also provided details on the Midpoint Assessment, a process that will be completed prior to the beginning of DSRIP year 3, in April 2017. PPS provider surveys are being conducted, which are meant to provide a cross-section of all providers in the PPS network and the extent to which they have been involved in project planning and implementation, funds flow and governance. PPS narratives are required of each PPS, intended to describe progress, challenges, successes, barriers overcome, changes to patient population based on changes in community needs. The state will be conducting on-site audits with a focus on governance, cultural competency and health literacy, performance reporting, financial sustainability, IT systems, and expanding access to primary care. Children's Health Homes Update. Health Homes Designated to Serve Children will begin to enroll children December 2016. The enrollment date was recently changed to align the effective date of changes in Health Home payment methodology that will address significant delays in the time it takes payments to flow to care management agencies. Children engaged in Early Intervention will begin enrollment in March 2017. CMS has approved the proposed approach for having the Health Home Care Manager serve as the Ongoing Service Coordinator for children enrolled in both Health Homes and the Early Intervention Program, and the State Health Home and Early Intervention staff have been meeting regularly to identify the methods to integrate HH services with Early Intervention Ongoing Service Coordination. To manage initial capacity (and provide time to build up capacity) Health Homes, local districts and Care Managers and Plans, are being asked to prioritize the enrollment of children that have the highest needs, including children who are already on waiting lists for care management services, children that are within 3 months of foster care discharge, children prescribed 3 or more psychotropic medications, Medically Fragile Children with multiple chronic conditions that have had recent (past 30 days) inpatient stay, and children with multiple system involvement (child welfare, criminal justice).

Accountable Care Organization Performance in New York. Crain's HealthPulse reports that few organizations participating in the Medicare Shared Savings Program earned a bonus for 2015. Among the 27 New York-based ACOs, 10 saved Medicare money and six qualified for bonus payments. ProHealth Accountable Care Medical Group earned the largest bonus, at a $6.3 million, followed by New York City Health + Hospitals' HHC ACO, which earned $6.1 million. The public health system has qualified for a bonus in each of the three years it has participated. New York has one participant in the Pioneer ACO Model, Montefiore ACO, which failed to earn shared savings for the first time since it was launched. Read More

Expanding Primary Care. In January 2015, the Fund for Public Health in New York joined in partnership with the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, United Hospital Fund, and The New York Academy of Medicine to launch the New York City Population Health Improvement Program (PHIP). The NYC PHIP is one of 11 PHIPs created around the state, with funding from the State Department of Health, working to achieve inclusive health planning at the regional and local level. The NYC PHIP recently released a plan laying out strategies to expand and improve the impact of the medical home model of primary care across New York City. The plan is intended to serve as a data-driven strategy for expanding the adoption, and improving the impact of, the medical home in New York City. It sets an aggressive goal – to ensure that 80% of New York City primary care providers achieve medical home status by 2020 – and includes specific strategies for addressing the primary barriers to reaching that goal. The report identifies five broad issues New York City will need to address in pursuing that goal:

- How to set priorities in a city the size of New York, and decide where and how to initially invest resources to transform primary care practices into medical homes;

- How best to enable New York City's small practices (those with fewer than five providers, for which implementation is most challenging) to adopt the medical home model;
- How best to integrate behavioral health services with primary care;
- How best to avoid the complexity and potential confusion related to having three simultaneous and similar practice transformation initiatives underway throughout New York State; and
- How to assure that payment systems fairly compensate primary care providers for the added costs and value of the medical home model. Read More

HHS Analysis Finds Exchange Rate Increases Will Not Make Coverage Too Costly for Individuals. CQ Roll Call reported on August 24, 2016, that according to a new analysis by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), most individuals will be able to afford their Exchange plan despite high premium hikes. If all plans sold through the Exchanges had a 25 percent rate increase, the report found that three-fourths of enrollees would still pay less than $75 a month, after premium tax credits provided by the government. Across the country, the average proposed rate increase is about 25 percent, with some states submitting rate increase requests as high as 50 percent. The analysis explains that subsidies will rise with premiums, keeping individuals' monthly costs in check. Rate increases are still subject to review by regulators and may end up being lower once approved by HHS. Last year, the average rate increase was 12 percent across all states and plans.

HHS Report Shows Medicaid Expansion Leads to Lower Premiums. The New York Times reported on August 25, 2016, that a new study published by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) shows that Exchange insurance premiums are 7 percent lower in states that expanded Medicaid. The report says that the difference is likely due to the population between 100 and 133 percent of the federal poverty level, who on average have higher health care utilization than those with higher incomes, making up a much larger share of the Exchange population in non-expansion states. Only states that use the federal Exchange marketplace were studied. The report comes as several insurers have pulled out of the Exchange markets, raising concerns about access and premium increases.
